

Repo Man

V1

Once in a while a rare blue moon
Will shine a light on new lovers to Illuminate that secret place
Where a love contract was made in haste
The love and the heat of that hot night
Led to one full year of side by side
With engagement rings to share a life
I thought we too...were doing alright

Heard about Dear John letters
Well I got one that's far better
An e-mail that made little sense
Announcing her new residence
With another guy from her far past
An unrequited love to last
Promises have led to tears
The contract's clear... love's in arrears

Chorus 1

And I will repossess the love that once was mine
With a kiss and caress I will change her mind
I know what is right and I know what is wrong
He will come up short Cause I am in for long

V2

The longest yard meets the longest mile
After mile after mile I sleep awhile
And it's one more day to reach the coast
Past the freeway signs and farm fence posts
She thought she'd moved far away
Enough for any man to choose to stay
She should have know right from the start
My feet would follow behind my heart

Down the road in the straightest line
I'm burning up the gas to make some time
To race before the coming dawn
And pass by where the moon had shone
She always said she liked a surprise
In a bag or box of any size
Monday morning's delivery
Surprise, surprise...the package is me

Chorus 2

And I will repossess the love that once was mine
With a kiss and caress I will change her mind
And I'll love her again any way I can
And I will seize the day cause I'm the repo man

V3

Now she understands that my right hand
Holds the power and persuasion that I command
At the end of reaching fingertips
That brushed across her trembling lips
She said that I'd have to go
Standing in the doorway of her newest home
She should have known when I made a vow
It's made forever not hear and now

We had words to not deny
That she still loved me deep inside
She admitted that confusion reigned
When from a crowd he called her name
That other guy who kept a place
In her memory to my disgrace
I've come to claim what I deserve
Notice is served...I won't be deterred

Chorus 3

And I will repossess the love that once was mine
With a kiss and caress I will change her mind
Surrendered peacefully her love towards a man
Rendered unto me cause I'm the repo man

Outro

Yes I, I, I, I'm the repo man.
